

The Big Table of Information

Processing activity	What personal data do we process?	Where do we get your personal data from?	Who do we share your personal data with?	What is our legal basis for processing your personal data?
Processing of your name and address and other personal data in relation to the data services we provide to our clients and partners. Buying in/licensing in lists of personal data which we use to provide data services to our clients and partners. Also, we use the personal data that we buy in/license in to create models that can either be at an individual level or aggregated level (e.g. at a postcode level). To create modelled/predicted data we process personal data along with non-personal data using various statistical methods. Please note that the modelled/predicted data is not real personal data (for examples see section entitled "How do we use personal data"). The personal data (including the modelled/predicted data) is sold, licenced or used by us to provide our data services to our clients and partners. CACI creates segments, categories and profiles using your personal data. We do not make any automated decisions relating to your profiled data. For further details of our data services, please visit our Consumer Information page.	Your name and address from the edited Electoral Register.	Equifax Limited www.equifax.co.uk	Our clients and partners. See the section entitled "Who do we share your personal data with".	Legitimate interest – of providing our data services to our clients and partners to enable them to provide or offer direct marketing services to you. The processing of personal data is necessary to provide our services to our clients and is in your interest as it allows more targeted marketing to you, in a way that does not harm you.
	Your name, address and date of birth.	Data Mixx http://www.datamixx.co.uk/
	If you are a mother your name, address, date of birth plus the presence of children which could include, if given, the age of the children only but not their names.	Emma's Diary if you have given them your data during pregnancy or shortly after the birth of your child. www.emmasdiary.co.uk MyOffers (an offers and competitions website) if you have given them your details. www.myoffers.co.uk
	Name and address data and separately pseudonymised responses to the survey.	Market research companies <sup>1</sup> and other organisations that you have completed surveys for (e.g. lifestyle surveys).
	Address data of which a small amount of contains an individual's name (e.g. Sam Jone's Farm, Avenue Way, Suffolk, [post code])	Royal Mail.
	Personal data in the public domain relating to you.	Land Registry and other publicly available sources (e.g. easily accessible via the internet).
	The modelled/probability data.	CACI creates this.

The Big Table of Information

Processing activity	What personal data do we process?	Where do we get your personal data from?	Who do we share your personal data with?	What is our legal basis for processing your personal data?
Processing recruitment related personal data.	Your CV, cover letter/email and other related information you provide to us.  Publicly available information about you (e.g. information you have posted on your social media webpages).	You and/or recruitment agencies.  The internet (e.g. LinkedIn, Facebook etc).	No one if your application is unsuccessful.	Consent or legitimate interest depending on the circumstances.
Where we have a contract with the organisation that you work for, we use your B2B contact details (e.g. your work email address and telephone number) to communicate with you regarding the provision of services/goods, to or from, your organisation.	Your name, the name and address of the organisation that you work for, your corporate email address, and your contact telephone numbers.	You or your organisation.	Most of the time we contact you directly but on occasion we may share your data with our marketing agencies, who may contact you on our behalf.	Legitimate interest.
Use of your B2B contact details for marketing our services to the organisation that you work for (which may be a potential client of CACI).	Your name, the name and address of the organisation that you work for, your corporate email address, and your contact telephone numbers.  Information on the internet relating to you (e.g. your social media postings, the website of the organisation that you work for).	You when you register on our website or otherwise give us your B2B contact details.  The internet: e.g. LinkedIn, Facebook, Companies House, your employer's websites, online directories etc.	Most of the time we contact you directly but on occasion we may share your data with our marketing and data management agencies.	Legitimate interest.
Cookies and other browsing related information when using www.caci.co.uk .	Cookies, IP address, device information, your browser details.	CACI and/or you.	No one.	Legitimate interest.
Use of suppressions lists so we (and/or our clients) do not use your personal data when you ask us not to.	Name and address.	Mailing preference service ( www.mpsonline.org.uk ).  CACI and/or you.	Our clients or partners to inform them to not use your data.	Legitimate interest.
Processing regarding back office functions such as IT backup, IT security, IT system services, and hosting.	Any of the above.	Any of the above.	Our IT service providers.	Legitimate interest

1. See <https://www.kantarmedia.com/uk/our-solutions/consumer-and-audience-targeting/tqi-survey-data> and <https://www.qfk.com/products-a-z/financial-research-survey/>