

Returning to university

of those living in shared accommodation are worried about the situation

71%

view campus as an integral part of the university experience

45%

believe it is now unlikely that they will study on campus 65%

are worried about COVID affecting lectures and seminars

37%

have not, and 38% have, enjoyed studying during lockdown. 25% are unsure 52%

feel they have been productive during this period

12%

believe COVID makes it less likely that they will complete their studies

Studying

Value from studying

are concerned about their budget and 51% are concerned about rising tuition fees are happy with post-lockdown comms from their university, only 19% were unhappy feel they haven't been getting value for money during lockdown have been happy with available tutor time, 33% are agnostic and 33% are unhappy

We surveyed 300 UK-based students in partnership with ResearchBods at the end of 2020 to assess their views on the Covid pandemic and its impact upon their studying.

